The Great New Medicine!
DR. J. WALKER'S SIERRA NEVADA VIGORENE
A Health-Giving Power!
PURIFIES THE BLOOD, INVIGORATES THE LIVER, PROMOTES DIGESTION, and STRENGTHENS THE NERVES.
Thus effectually curing disease of whatever name or nature. It is worthy of a trial. RELIEF guaranteed.
VIGORENE
Is AGREEABLE to the taste, GRATEFUL to the stomach, and acts efficiently as a CATHARTIC, ALTERATIVE and DIURETIC. Its action is not attended with any unpleasant feeling, neither is languor nor debility experienced, but on the contrary, refreshment and invigoration. Its immediate effect upon the digestive organs, whether impaired by disease or enfeebled from any cause, is to increase their powers of assimilation and nutrition, the appetite being increased at once. To those affected with an engorged condition of the liver, or Biliousness, characterized by a dusky complexion, a coated tongue, a pasty, bad taste in the mouth, a capricious appetite and sluggish action of the bowels with a sense of fullness in the head and mental dullness, VIGORENE proves most valuable.
Its effect upon the kidneys is no less happy, a turbid, irritating urine is quickly cleared up by it.
Inflammatory and Chronic RHEUMATISM will soon disappear by a persistent use of VIGORENE.
For the cure of Skin Diseases and Eruptions of all kinds, VIGORENE is most certain.
VIGORENE is composed of the active properties of HERBS, ROOTS, GUMS and BARKS, that nature alone furnishes, great care being taken to gather them at the right season of the year, and at the time that they possess their native virtues.
That VIGORENE has the power to PURIFY THE BLOOD, INVIGORATE the LIVER, and STIMULATE the DIGESTIVE ORGANS, is indisputably proven by those who have given it a trial and have been permanently cured.
We do not ask you to try a dozen bottles to experience relief, for we GUARANTEE you will feel better from the first few doses.
VIGORENE is astonishing the world with its cures, and is throwing all other TONICS, ALTERATIVES and INVIGORANTS, into the shade. Put up in large bottles, double strength. Requires small doses, and is pleasant to take.
Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

HISTORY OF COLUMBIA COUNTY.

MILITARY RECORD.

Emergency Men 1862.

The second battle of Bull Run was fought under Genl. John Pope, August 30, 1862; and the enemy immediately after their victory began moving towards Pennsylvania. On the 4th of Sept, Gov. Curtin issued a proclamation calling on the people to prepare for defense. The rebel army was in Maryland by the 10th, and McClellan was called upon by the President, to head our shattered and discomfited troops. He met the enemy at South Mountain on the 14th of September, and drove him back though its passes; and following on, on the 16th and 17th fought the decisive battle of Antietam, which saved the State from invasion and bloodshed. In the meantime however, to prevent the threatened invasion, the militia of the State turned out en masse and on the 17th of September, there were under arms and moving toward the Southern border, about 50,000 men. Gen. McClellan thanked Gov. Curtin for his promptness in giving the moral support of the State to the Army of the Potomac in the great cricis. In this emergency Columbia county sent three companies and Montour county two A fourth going from Columbia county on the 22d of September.

This company of "Emergency Men," left Bloomsburg on the 22d of September 1862. I have not been able to find that they were ever mustered into the service, or placed in any regiment.

"With malice toward none, and charity for all, I, the undersigned, my conscience punishing me, do promise to pay the printer the amount I owe him, for the paper I have been taking, and that I will by all or any means, induce others to do likewise." Sound pledge.

We came across an old hunting song the other day and the refrain ran "The hunter winds his mellow horn, tira-la, tira-la, tira-li la." Wretchedly poor imitation. It should read to keep up with the times. "The hunter winds his mellow horn, gugglety, glug, glug, glug."

"Hi! where did you get them trowsers?" asked an Irishman of a man who happened to be passing with a pair of remarkably short trowsers on. "I got them where they grew," was the indignant reply. Then, be me conscience," said Paddy, "you've pulled them a year too soon!"

A Good Story Told About Alexander Stephens and Bob Toombs.

A doctor named Royston had sued Pete Bennett for his bill long overdue, for attending the wife of the latter. Alexander H. Stephens was on the Bennett side, and Robert Toombs, then Senator of the United States, was for Dr. Royston. The Dr. proved the number of his visits, their value according to local custom and his own authority to do medical practice. Mr. Stephens told his client that the physician had made out his case, and as there was nothing wherewith to rebut or offset the claim, the only thing left to do was to pay it. "No," said Peter; "I hired you to speak in my case, and now speak."

Mr. Stephens told him there was nothing to say; he had looked on to see that it was made out, and it was.

Peter was obstinate, and at last Mr. Stephens told him to make a speech himself, if he thought one could be made.

"I will," said Peter Bennett, "if Bobby Toombs won't be too hard on me."

Senator Toombs promised, and Peter began:

"Gentlemen of the Jury—You and I is plain farmers, and if we don't stick together these 'ere lawyers and doctors will git the advantage of us. I aint no doctor nor lawyer; ain't no objections to them in their proper place; but they ain't no farmers, gentlemen of the jury.

"Now, this man Royston, was a new doctor and I went for him to come an' to doctor my wife's sore leg. And he come an' put some salve truck onto it and some rags, but never done it one bit of good, gentlemen of the jury. I don't believe he is no doctor, no way. There is doctors as is doctors sure enough, but this man don't earn his money; and if you send for him, as Mrs. Sarah Atkinson did, for a negro boy as was worth $1,-000, he just kills him, and wants pay for it."

"I don't," thundered the doctor.

"Did you cure him?" asked Peter, with the slow accents of a judge with the black cap on.

The doctor was sayin,' gentlemen of the jury, we farmers when we sell our cotton has got to give vally for the money we ask, and doctors aint too good to be put to the same rule. And I don't believe this Sam. Royston is no doctor, nohow."

The physician again put in his oar, with, "Look at my diploma it you think I am no doctor."

"His diploma!" exclaimed the new-fledged orator with great contempt. "His diploma! Gentlemen, that is a big word for printed sheepskin, and it didn't make no doctor of the sheep as first wore it, nor does it of the man as now carries it. A good newspaper has more in it, and I p'int out to ye that he ain't no doctor at all."

The man of medicine was now in a fury, and screamed out "Ask my patients if I am not a doctor!"

"I asked my wife" reported Peter, "an' she said as how she thought you wasn't."

"Ask my other patients," said Doctor Royston.

This seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's back, for Peter replied with look and tone of unutterable sadness:

"That is hard sayin,' gentlemen of the jury, and one that requires me to die or to have power as I've heard tell ceased to be exercised since the Apostles. Does he expect me to bring the Angel Gabriel down to toot his horn before his time and cry aloud, 'Awake, ye dead, and tell this court and jury your own opinion of Royston's practice?' Am I to go to the lonely churchyard and rap on the silent tomb and say to um as is at last at rest from physic and doctor-bills, 'Git up here, you, and state, if you died a natural death, or was hurried up by some doctor?' He says ask his patients, and, gentlemen of the jury, they are all dead! Where is Mrs. Beazly's man Sam? Go ask the worms in the graveyard where he lies. Mr. Peake's woman Sarah was attended by him, and her funeral was app'inted, and he had the corpse ready. Where is that likely Bill as belonged to Mr Mitchell? Now in glory a' expressin' his opinion on Royston's doctorin.' Where is that baby gal of Harry Stephens'? She are where doctors cease frmo troublin' and the infants are at rest.

"Gentlemen of the jury, he has et chicken enough at my house to pay for his salve, and I furnished the rags, and I don't suppose he charges for makin' of her worse, and even he don't pretend to charge for curin' of her, and I am humbly thankful that he never gave nothin' for her inwards, as he did his other patients, for somethin' made um all die mighty sudden"———

Here the applause made the speaker sit down in great confusion, and in spite of a logical restatement of the case by Senator Toombs, the doctor lost and Peter Bennett won.—N. Y. World.

Horrible Affair at a Reformatery.

We are informed that the most horrible discoveries have been made in the Jamaica Reformatory for Native Boys, which is situated on a hill about nine miles from Kingston. Some time ago, under the governorship of Sir William Grey, a Baptist clergyman was appointed Superintendent of the Reformatory, with a salary of £400 a year, besides a house and other perquisites. But these appear not to have been sufficient for the reverend gentleman, who applied the food allotted for the four hundred poor boys under his charge to fattening pigs for the market. Meanwhile the little wretches were starved and growing desperate—they actually fought with the pigs for the food thrown to them. The miserable creatures were neglected in every possible way. A nasty insect, called a tick, well known to every traveler in the tropics, burrowed into their feet, and as the doctor had to look after his private patients, the wounds, which, if examined in time, would have been trifling, became so serious that amputation of toes or feet were necessary in no less than eighty cases. Starved and neglected, the lads became unruly. The offenders were then shackled together in pairs and consigned to the cells, where some were forgotten for three days and left without food or drink. All this at last came to light by mere accident. The boys were entrusted with knives to cut down some guinea grass outside, in charge of one warden only; they naturally used their liberty to satisfy the cravings of hunger by plundering the neighboring gardens. The owners did not dare to interfere, but reported the matter to the Governor. This led to investigation and reform, and we understand that Lord Carnarvon has, in a strongly-worded dispatch, denounced this horrible affair as a disgrace to the colony and to the whole Government.—Vanity Fair.

Our Gold Coins.

A HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE VARIOUS DENOMINATIONS.

The following historical sketch of our gold coinage is condensed from an exhaustive paper of Mr. O. W. Wright, in the Milwaukee Journal of Commerce.

1. The double-eagle, or $20 piece. Coinage of the double eagle was authorized by the act of March 3, 1849. Its weight is 516 grains. Its fineness is 900. (This technical form of expression means that 900 parts in 100 are pure metal, the other 100 parts are alloy.) The total coinage of the $20 gold piece up to June 30, 1877, the close of the last fiscal year, was $809,598,440. The amount is far greater than that of all the other coinage of the United States. It is the imperial coin of our country, at once massive in weight and regal in appearance.

2. The Eagle, or $10 piece. Its coinage was authorized by the act of April 2, 1792. The weight was first established by law at 270 grains, but was changed forty-two years afterwards, by the act of June 28, 1834, to 258 grains, where it has remained ever since. Its fineness was, in the beginning, 916⅔, but was changed, by the act of June 28, 1834, the same act that lowered its weight, to 899,225. Two years and a half subsequently, its fineness was increased—less than one part in a thousand—to 900. Its weight and fineness have remained thus fixed to the present day. The total coinage of this noble piece of American money, up to June 30, 1877, was $56,707,220—less than one-fourteenth of the total coinage of the imperial double eagle.

3. The half-eagle, or $5 piece. This elegant coin has undergone, the same vicissitudes as the eagle. Its coinage was authorized by the same act of April, 2, 1792. Its weight was 135 grains and its fineness 916⅔. By the act of June 28, 1834, its weight was reduced to 129 grains and its fineness to 899,-225. By the act of January 18, 1837, its fineness was slightly raised to the uniform standard of 900. Its weight and fineness have thus remained to our time. Its total coinage, up to the close of the last fiscal year was $69,412,815.

4. The quarter-eagle, or $2.50 piece. This fine coin belongs to the same family with the eagle and half-eagle. Its coinage was authorized, its weight and fineness correspondingly altered by the same acts. The statute of 1792 made its weight 675 grains and its fineness 916⅔. Its weight was reduced to 645 grains and its fineness to 899,225 by the act of 1834. The act of 1837 raised its fineness to 900. Its total coinage up to June 30, 1877, was $26,975

5. The dollar. This pretty little gold piece was created by the act of March 3, 1849, the same act that authorized the coinage of the double eagle. It has remained unchanged. Its weight is 25.8 grains and its fineness 900. The total coinage up to the close of the last fiscal year was $19,345,438.

6. Three Dollar Piece. An act of February 21, 1853, establishing this irregular coin. Its weight 77.4 grains, and its fineness 900, are of the normal standard, and have not been changed by subsequent acts. Its total coinage up to June 30, 1877, was $1,300,-032.

It is hardly necessary to state that all these gold coins are legal tender to an unlimited amount. The Federal statute requires, however, that the weight should not be materially reduced by attrition.

Thus it will be seen, there are six pieces of gold coinage in the United States. The double-eagle, the three dollar piece, the dollar piece—all of late coinage have not been changed in weight or fineness. One of the earliest acts of Congress authorized the coinage of the eagle, the half eagle and the quarter eagle. They remained of the same weight and fineness during more than forty-years. By the Act of June 23, 1834, the weight and fineness were both materially reduced.

Two years and a half subsequently, by the act of January 18, 1837, the fineness was increased by less than one part in a thousand. The standard of weight and fineness has remained the same ever since for all gold coin. The fineness is nine parts of pure gold and one part of alloy; or 900 parts in 1,000, as it is generally expressed. The standard of weight—including alloy with the gold—is 25.8 grains to the dollar; the double eagle is twenty times that (516 grains); the eagle, ten times (258 grains); the half eagle, five times (139 grains); the three dollar piece, three times (774 grains); the quarter eagle, 2½ times that (645 grains.

The question is sometimes asked: Of what is the alloy made? In gold coin, it was, at first, a compound of silver and copper. It was forbidden by statute that the alloy should be more than half silver. It is now nearly all copper owing to advances in the art of assaying and improved methods in coinage.

The total amount of gold coinage, up to June 30, 1877, was $983,159,695.

Pope Pius' Successor.

The new pope was born at Carpenetto, in the diocese of Arragui, on March 2, 1810, and is sixty-eight years of age. He was created Cardinal on December 19, 1853. He is archbishop of Perouse and chamberlain of the pope. He was to have been created cardinal at the request of a Protestant, King Leopold I, of Belgium, to whom he had been sent as Nuncio by Gregory XVI; but on the death of the latter, Pius IX, yielding to Antonelli, allowed seven years to elapse before appointing him. Of a high intellect, of a well tried and energetic nature, his eminence has made not only an excellent bishop but has realized the type of a perfect cardinal. As an administrator he managed to clear Benevento of smuggling and brigandage, as well as of the underhand intrigues of the party of the nobility. As a man of intelligence he does not regard with such a pessimist eye as his colleagues the reciprocal sensations of the church and society. He has evidently found a solution in his own mind for existing difficulties. His eminence is tall and thin. His features have an aristocratic stamp, and are characterized by great finesse. He has a resemblance at once to Voltaire and Richelieu. The voice strikes one disagreeably at first, it is so nasal in its tones, but one soon gets accustomed to this peculiarity, owing to its fullness and resonance. Although simple in manners his eminence is of all the cardinals the one who carries himself with the most pontifical majesty, resembling in this Pius IX., who, in his early days passed for incomparable.

Poetical.

A RELIC OF BURNS.

[London Court Journal.]

Scoon and Perth Masonic Lodge, known as No. 3, the third oldest lodge in Scotland, has become possessed of a very interesting relic of Burns, which is understood to be hitherto unpublished. It is addressed to "Mrs. W. Riddell, Haleaths." The poem appears to have been written on three pages of a sheet of letter paper, the following note occupying the first page: "Mrs. W. Riddell, Haleaths—The health you wished me in your morning's card is, I think, flown from me forever. I have not been able to leave my bed to-day till about an hour ago. Those wickedly unlucky advertisements I lent (I did wrong) to a friend, and I am ill able to go in quest of him. The Muses have not quite forsaken me. The following detached stanzas I intend to interweave in some disastrous tale of a shepherd:"

Despairing beside a clear stream,
L'amour; toujours l'amour!
Volte subito.

The trout in yonder wimpling burn
That glides, a silver dart,
And safe beneath the shady thorn
Defies the angler's art:
My life was once that careless stream,
That wanton trout was I:
But love with unrelenting beam
Has scorched my fountains dry.

That little flawret's peaceful lot
In yonder cliff that grows,
Which, save the linnet's flight, I wot,
No ruder visit knows,
Was mine, till Love has o'er me passed,
And blighted a' my bloom;
And now beneath the withering blast
My youth and joy consume.

The waken'd lav'rock warbling springs,
And climbs the early sky,
Winnowing blythe his dewy wings
In morning's rosy eye:
As little reck't I sorrow's power,
Until the flow'ry snare
O' witching love, in luckless hour,
Made me the thrall o'care.

DOES HE MEAN BUSINESS.

HARVARD LAMPOON.

Beyond the seas the English lion's roaring
In notes of warlike bass;
The Crescent sees the Russian eagle soaring
Above the Shipka Pass.
And old John Bull is as of old proclaiming
He'll take the weaker side!
Can he forget the bloody, useless maiming
Of Balaklava's ride?

How canst thou boast and Russia be victorious,
"Britannia rules the seas?"
Waft, then thy flag—thy Union Jack, the glorious,
Thy challenge on the breeze!
For honor's sake: a creditable story,
But once too often told;
For Britain fights her battles for the glory
That's lined with foreign gold.

Well, John, go in; we've heard enough of blowing.
Just keep your word this year;
For if you don't you might object to knowing
What we'll say over here.
The double eagle over Stamboul flying
Would be thy bitterest pill,
So gulp it down!—while over here we're trying
To pass our Silver bill.

Webster's Home.

SOMETHING CONCERNING THE MARSHFIELD MANSION THAT WAS BURNED.

The Boston Traveler has the following concerning the mansion of Daniel Webster, situated in the southeastern part of the town of Marshfield, Mass., which was totally destroyed by fire on the morning of the 14th ult.: "The building was owned by Mrs. Fletcher Webster, who, with her son, was the sole occupant, and was insured in the Massachusetts Mutual insurance company for $6,200. The lady and her son, upon discovering that the destruction of the mansion was only a question of time, set heroically at work, and in the short time allotted them succeeded in rescuing a quantity of the silver plate, pictures and some other articles, priceless as mementoes of Mr. Webster. It was thought that the valuable library had been destroyed when the intelligence first spread among the residents of the neighborhood, but investigation showed that it had been removed some time since. The building was quaint and after no especial style of architecture, the various additions being added with more regard to the taste and convenience of the owner than general effect. The mansion set back from the road some 300 yards, was painted white and nearly hidden by the elms which have become so famous.

"The original owner was Captain John Thomas, a near and dear friend of Mr. Webster, and it is related that the latter upon visiting the spot became charmed with its great natural beauty and entered into negotiations for its purchase. Captain Thomas became, however, financially embarrassed, and upon the urgent request of Mr. Webster, he and his wife occupied a room in the house until his decease. The house was surrounded by a wide piazza and to the west of the old building Mr. Webster had constructed an L., after a peculiar Gothic pattern for his library. This room was lighted by colored glass, which made it a favorite resort of all who paid the mansion a visit. Adjoining the library were the drawing room and a small reception room. To the rear of these apartments was the immense dining hall, some fifty feet in length. To the east of this was the main hall, about 125 feet in length, running the whole length of the building. At the easterly side of the house was the small sitting room, connected by a hall with the breakfast room. Passing through a hall one passed into the large kitchen, in the rear of which was situated the extensive dairy and woodshed. Upon the second floor, in the front of the house, was the room in which Daniel Webster died on the right of the hall. Opposite to this on the left of the hall, a large bed room succeeded by eight rooms of the same description. These apartments were very large. At the rear end of the room in which Mr. Webster expired was another large bed room, and over the library on the extreme west of the upper story, was called the 'Castrum,' so called because it had no entrance except from the bed rooms on either side. Some 400 feet from the mansion was the barn, and near by the various outbuildings, but these were not destroyed."

The articles saved were but a small part of those in the house. The servants lost greater part of their clothing. Mrs. Webster saved some of her wearing apparel. Nothing in the upper stories was removed from the building. Of the fine collection of china nothing was saved, although a part of the silver was. A large punch-bowl, presented to Daniel Webster by the Sandwich glass company was lost. The dining room contained some costly antique furniture and fine engravings which were lost. A portion of the library and the piano in the music room were saved. Among the portraits saved were those of Lord Ashburton, Judge Story, three of Daniel Webster, one of Mrs. Daniel Webster, those of their sons, Colonel Fletcher and Major Edward—an oil painting of the Virgin Mary, and a collection of butterflies presented to Mr. Webster by the emperor of Brazil.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

While we are amused at the absurd declaration that the issue of our recent town election was that of labor against capital, it affords us an opportunity to review the situation briefly. First, let us see where the dividing line comes in between the capitalist and the laboring man. It can be defined only in one way, and that is that he who owns a cow and takes care of her on his own premises, and has no desire to let her run at large, is a capitalist, while he who wants to pasture his cattle in his neighbors door yard is the laboring man. This is the inevitable conclusion of their own reasoning, for they claim a victory over "capital" because of the election of a majority in the Town Council in favor of repealing the cattle ordinance.

This is all nonsense. The issue was no more between capital and labor than it was between Christian and Mohammedan. Nor was it a test of popularity between candidates. The issue made by the so-called labor party was simply whether cattle should run at large, and to this everything else was subordinated. Although this point was carried it is by no means conclusive of a majority of voters in favor of the repeal of the ordinance. There are men in the town who have, perchance, been arrested for some cause, by the Chief of police, and all these voted against the old council which had put a man in office who dared to do his duty. There are others who wanted to work on the roads, and because the street commissioner did not see fit to employ them they too voted against the council that appointed him. There are many more who never did an honest days work in their lives, but when the opportunity offers itself, are the loudest in denunciation of the oppression of the poor man by the bloated bond-holder. These of course all voted against the party of progress, and one day in the year they are laboring men, that is election day. There are printers who call themselves laboring men simply for the purpose of getting a chance to do the town printing, and while talking loudly about the poor man, desire only to put money in their own pockets. These too, vote to let the cows run. And there are men who ally themselves with this party to pull the wool over the eyes of the laboring man, in the hope that it may increase the chances of an appointment as policeman, High constable, Town treasurer or Solicitor. And these are all precious friends of the poor men, who are being used as cat's paws without knowing it. Notwithstanding all these side issues, and the intrigues of schemers who are looking only to self, the innocent cow has the whole burden thrown on her back, and she is made the pack horse on which the election is carried.

If there is a struggle between labor and capital in this town, it is high time the so-called capitalists found it out. If it be true that each vote cast for Mr. Herring was intended as a blow at capital then it is time that those who furnish employment for the laboring class should stop putting bread in the mouths of the treacherous reptile which stings the hand that feeds it. But as we said in the beginning the proposition is an absurd one, and the President of the council elect, will be the first to repudiate the statement that the issue was between capital and labor.

Beamish's Pardon.

A POLITICAL TRADE FOR LUZERNE.

The recommendation of the Board of Pardons in the case of Frank A. Beamish has been approved by Gov. Hartranft, and the papers were mailed last Friday. The recommendation for the pardon was signed by Lieutenant Governor Latta, Secretary of Internal Affairs McCandless and Secretary of the Commonwealth Quay. Attorney General Lear who was not influenced by any such reasons as the others, but looked at the case from the cold standpoint of law and facts, declined to agree in the recommendation. Among those who petitioned for the pardon are Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, and Hon. Stanley Woodward counsel for Beamish Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, Hon. Samuel S. Jones, Hon. D. M. Jones, Hon William N. Monies, Hon. George Judge and twenty clergymen of the Catholic Church, as well as a number who vigorously urged his prosecution. The case has been before the board for six months, and the ostensible ground for granting the pardon is the condition of Beamish's wife, who suffers great mental anguish, and with six children, is destitute. It is also contended that Beamish was punished for a graver crime than contemplated in the indictment against him.

The action of the Governor has created a decided sensation. There is a general feeling that it has a political significance, and that Col. Hoyt expects to derive substantial benefits from it. Attorney General Lear has no hesitancy in stating that in his opinion the prisoner should remain in the penitentiary. Among the specious pretexts given for the pardon is one that Beamish, having great influence with the riotous elements of Luzerne county, will restore peace to that county. It is stated that the miners are drilling and apparently ready for another outbreak. With Beamish free it is given out that the impending danger could be averted.

Anderson's Sentence.

THE PRISONER SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS HARD LABOR AND COSTS.

NEW ORLEANS, February 25.—Thomas C. Anderson was called before the bar this morning. The motion in arrest of judgment was overruled, and when asked if he had anything to offer before sentence, Anderson said that he considered this case cruel persecution under the forms of law, that he was in the power of the court and ready to receive his sentence.

Judge Whitaker answered that the accused had had a fair trial before an impartial jury, and the verdict was fully justified by the evidence. He then sentenced Anderson, in consequence of the recommendation of the jury to the mercy of the court, to the lowest term under the law—two years hard labor in the penitentiary and costs.

A suspensive appeal was granted, returnable on the 27th.

A motion to transfer the cases of Wells, Kenner and Casnave to the United States court was filed, and will be heard on March 6.

W. W. Callender, son of Philip Callender who was murdered at Hunlock's creek last January, was arrested on the 21st ult., and taken to Wilkesbarre, charged with the premeditated murder of his father. The prisoner who is but 18 years old asserted his innocence, but was committed to prison until last Tuesday when he had a hearing, the result of which we have not yet learned.

HARRISBURG LETTER.

Legislative Correspondence.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 27, 1878.

Your Harrisburg Correspondent, owes you and your readers an humble apology for his neglect of the past twoweeks. It was owing to circumstances over which he had no control. With a faithful promise, that his letters whether good bad or indifferent in your estimation shall not again be among the missing, he resumes the broken thread of legislation. The sessions of the past two weeks have been dull and uninteresting. Last week no session was held until Wednesday evening. The calendar of bills on first reading was then taken up in the House and over one hundred bills were read. The absence of a quorum in the Senate prevented that branch of the legislature from holding any session until Thursday morning.

In the House on Friday the whole session was consumed with the consideration of original resolutions which made it quite lively for a while. A summary of Fridays work is as follows:

Mr. Shaffer of Allegheny desired to prohibit bills from being read in place in the House after the first of March. This the House refused to direct. Then Mr. Heller of Lehigh asked and obtained the consent of the House to granting the use of their hall to the Hon. Adam Woolever, to deliver his far famed lecture on the enfranchisement of woman. The request was granted and to-night the Hon. Adam is holding forth to a crowded house, and his remarks are being received with tears of joy.—but to resume our Fridays work, Mr. Faunce of Philadelphia wanted the House to adjourn finally on April 10, but his resolution was sent to the committee on ways and means, and the genial John is confident that there is no way or means by which he can get it out again.

Mr. Schell desired a change in the rules of the House so as to prevent members from recording their votes without rising to remain standing in their places until their names are called and recorded. This is intended to prevent a fraudulent count, and was accordingly laid over for future consideration.

Mr. Huhn, of Philadelphia adorning himself in his old centennial war paint came forward with a resolution, which the House adopted and which the Senate to-day sent to the centenial committee—calling upon Congress to come to the aid of the centennial authorities with an appropriation of one million of dollars.

Being the birth-day of the "Father of His Country" Mr Yeakle wanted the House to adjourn five minutes before the regular time out of respect to the said F. O. H. C. but as this legislature seems to have but very little respect for anything connected with the good of the country, it didn't adjourn even for five minutes.

The Senate has passed a resolution to adjourn sine die on March 28 but the resolution upon being messaged to the House was laid to rest in committee along side of Faunce's 10th of April resolution.

Yesterday evening the Senate held a session of about ten minutes passed several bills on first reading and adjourned.

In the House Mr. Souder of Philadelphia from the committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Harry O'Neill late member from the fourth district of Philadelphia reported a preamble and resolutions which after appropriate speeches by Messrs. Souder, Huhn, Long & Zern were unanimously adopted. The House then adjourned without doing any business, out of respect to the memory of the deceased member. At the close of this session the "Immortal" "I N." who was present in the lobby was called upon for a speech and responding, he entertained the members for half an hour or more. He gave some home thrusts of a political nature—to both sides of the House which were much enjoyed.

To-day has been marked with little of importance in legislation—excepting the temporary defeat of the Philadelphia recorders bill. It fell in the House for want of a constitutional vote—the yeas were 94, and the nays 77. A political admixture in the vote was somewhat of a surprise. Among the yeas were seven democrats mostly from Philadelphia, while among the nays were sixteen republicans.

This bill will be taken up again in the House, when that number in which safety lies, is present.

Thomas P. Fisher Respited.

SOME NEW EVIDENCE.

Alias Death Warrants of Hester, Tully and McHugh signed by the Governor.

A respite of thirty days was granted by the Governor last Friday to Thomas P. Fisher, who was to be hanged on Tuesday last at Mauch Chunk, on the strength of an affidavit made by a man who avers that when Morgan Powell was killed Fisher was in his company at a hotel. The reason given for the delay in making this statement is that he was afraid that if he testified to the fact during the trial his life would be in danger owing to the bitter feeling against the Mollie Maguires. The affidavit conflicts with the testimony of two accomplices in the murder, who stated that Fisher pointed out Powell to Yellow Jack Donahue, who fired the fatal shot.

At the next meeting of the Board of Pardons, on the first Tuesday in March, the new matter furnished will be examined, and if the statement be accepted as true the prisoner's sentence will be commuted to imprisonment for life. Alias death warrants have been issued for the execution of Patrick Hester, Peter McHugh and Patrick Tully, on March 25, and death warrants for the execution of John Kehoe and Dennis Donnelly, on April 18, 1878.

The cases of Hester, Tully and McHugh will be presented to the Board of Pardons next week.

Wahlen, the Elm Station murderer, convicted of the murder of Max Hoehne in Montgomery county, cheated the gallows by hanging himself in his cell on last Saturday night. He made a rope out of the bed clothes, tore a piece of iron from the cell heater, fastened the rope to the cross bar in the window, kicked a chair from under him and struck himself on the head with the iron at the same time. When found he was dead and his skull broken.

Judge Whitaker has rendered a decision upon the motion for a new trial in the case of Thomas C. Anderson, the convicted member of the Louisiana state returning board. He holds that the verdict is in accordance with the evidence and refuses to grant a new trial.

The Silver Bill passed the House last week Thursday with the Senate amendments, by more than a two-thirds vote. The President may veto the bill, but if he does it will be passed over his head, by a large majority in both branches of Congress. The full text of the bill was published last week.

WESTERN LETTER.

CARTHAGE, Jasper Co., Mo.,
February 26, 1878.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN

Dear Sirs:—In my last letter I promised your readers a brief description of Carthage and other towns in the "Southwest." In this letter space will only permit me to give a description of the "Queen City of the Southwest," CARTHAGE, the county seat of Jasper county, Mo. It was laid out as a town and became the county seat in 1842. Its location is on Spring river and on an eminence near the centre of the county, commanding a splendid view of the surrounding country for miles. The growth of the town was slow but sure, both in population and wealth, until at the beginning of the rebellion, when it numbered a population of 500. At that time it was devoid of church buildings (regular preaching was held at the court house every Sunday) and school houses, save one small building, I believe; and it had no stage line connection with the outside world, except a daily mail carried on horseback from Sarcoxie, the mother town of Jasper county, 15 miles distant.

This is the place where the famous battle between Gen. Franz Sigel, of the Union forces, and Gen. Stirling Price, of the Confederate forces, was fought, known as the "battle of Carthage" The town was completely devastated and depopulated during the war, and I am informed only five dwellings escaped destruction. Up to the conclusion of the war the town remained a desolate and silent place: the public square and streets were deserted, save by the wolf and deer, and wandering bands of marauders passing through.

After the war the town began to settle again and improved and prospered until it has gained the reputation of the "Queen City of the Southwest." Its prosperity now rests upon a sound and substantial basis. Spring river, which flows by the city and northwest, is finely adapted for manufacturing purposes, and the farming land surrounding is of the best quality and very productive, and plenty of it. The city can boast of the best flouring mill in the State outside of St. Louis, located on the above named river. The capacity of this mill is over 1,000 bushels per week, and was built at a cost of $40,000. Two other excellent flouring mills, a woolen mill, two foundries, four wagon shops, manufacturing as good a wagon as can be found anywhere in Pennsylvania, and a plow factory, are in successful operation and constantly kept busy despite the hard times. A furniture manufactory is successfully and extensiveyl carried on by Leidy Bros. & Co. The former are Columbia county men, well known by a large number of your readers. They came here several years ago, started in the business in connection with Mr. John Bottenfield, a gentleman in every respect and an experienced business man, from Ohio, and being men of enterprise established for themselves an extensive business, and, I am glad to say, they enjoy the confidence of the people. Their factory is large, as also is their retail and wholesale department. There are four banks here doing a general banking and exchange business in all its branches, and all have the confidence of the people. The public school building is an imposing structure, and was built at a cost of $35,000. There are also a Public Library, seven churches, M. E., Baptist, Congregational, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Christian, and M. E. Church South: and four weekly newspapers and two dailies, the Banner, (Rep.) morning and weekly, Patriot, (Dem.) evening and weekly, Press, (Ind.) weekly, and the Advance, (neutral) weekly. All are live and well supported newspapers and ably edited. The different secret societies are also well represented.

The city contains quite a number of commodious brick business buildings, together with a handsome Opera House just completed, located in the public square in the centre of the city; the square is very much like that of Wilkesbarre, Pa. The public buildings, court house and jail, are not as substantial as they should be, but the city is young and is excusable for the present. The residences are fine and tidy, and were built, it is plainly seen for comfort. The city is rapidly filling up with eastern people and now contains a population of about 6,000.

I have omitted many things that would be interesting to the readers of the COLUMBIAN, but it will take up too much space and I hope this will suffice for the present. One word, I advise the mechanic and laborer not to come west for the present to seek work. Stay at home if you have employment, even at small wages. As for the farmers—let them come by the hundreds, they are wanted here.

Respectfully,

H. H. RUTTER.

An Explanation.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN: In your remarks of last week on the County Statement you were somewhat in error.

1. The statement gives the amount of taxes assessed for 1877, and the amount still due. The difference between these two is the amount paid which is greater than that unpaid.

Your idea that taxes should be paid sooner than they are is, I think good. The northern counties of this State generally have their county collectors settle their duplicates by the first of January each year, but in the rest of the State it rarely if ever happens.

2. You seem not to understand why the Treasurer is charged with $13,433, when only $3761, was due from collectors prior to 1877. This $13,433 is the amount uncollected at the end of the year 1876 and charged against the Treasurer at the beginning of 1877, and the $2761 is what remained unpaid out of the $13,433 at the end of the year 1877.

3. As to the $100, charge on dog fund, I think right. It is charged against the dog fund and thrown into the county fund. The dog and county statements show it.

No orders are drawn on the dog fund for anything except sheep damage and the County bears all expenses; such as paying assessors, paying for blanks, &c., and the printing of the dog fund statement, auditing accounts, and all other matters incident to conducting the fund.

4. As to exonerations, no doubt that many are larger than they should be. As to the Bloom exonerations for the year 1876, you give the amount $19—the statement shows $19.20, but $48.01 was made during 1876, and that with the $19.20 makes $67.21 upon a County and State tax of $3405.64. So it compares favorably with other districts unless it be Centralia and Conyngham. These amounts also include returns of seated land.

The Commissioners intend, as soon as all exonerations for 1877 are taken, to publish a list, so the public and all interested can see who are exonerated.

WM. KRICKBAUM, Clerk.

Score one for Dr. Mary Walker. The supreme court of Pennsylvania has decided, in the case of the young lady who was injured in a Philadelphia street car, and who alleged in rebuttal that her stays were so tight she couldn't hold to the strap which hung over her head—that the condition of muscular helpless that some women get themselves into, by reason of the wonderful intricacies of dress arrangements, are questions of fact for juries, and not questions of law for judges, when such issues get into court. This is what the Chief Justice said: "Possibly a woman may be so fantastically and foolishly hooped, wired and pinned up, as to deprive her of her natural power to help herself; but if so, the questian is one of fact, and not of law, and so we incline to leave it, instead of imposing upon our brethren below the difficult duty of prying into the artificial stays of the plaintiff's case."—Ex.

The Reason Why.

We are often asked by well-meaning persons, says the Lewisburg "Chronicle," why they have to pay higher prices for country newspapers than for those printed in the cities? "Why do you charge two dollars for the "Chronicle," when I can get the New York Sockdologer—a bigger paper—for a dollar and a half?" We will try to clear up this mystery. Suppose the Chronicle has a cash subscription list of one thousand at $2.00—that makes $2,000. Well now, suppose the New York Sockdologer, or whatever paper you choose for a comparison, has a paying list of 100,000, at $1.50—that makes $150,000. Now, suppose this paper has a profit of but ten cents—that clears the publisher $10,000. Now suppose the Chronicle realizes that per centage, and no more—that would make a sum of $100. This latter amount would compel a printer to live very "thin" himself, and squander nothing on his family; while his city cotemporary could wax as fat as Jeshurun. You see the necessity of a country printer charging more than a city printer, now, don't you? A paper the size of the Chronicle, with its circulation and price, couldn't live over night in a city.

The penetrating winds incident to this season of the year are a severe ordeal for the lungs. The neglect of a hard cough generally leads to a weakness of the lungs, which, not infrequently, results in Consumption.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP will at once relieve and loosen a tight cough and is such an agreeable remedy that children will take it without being coaxed. A cold on the lungs, if consumption is not already developed, may be easily mastered by the use of the Pulmonic Syrup, together with Schenck's Mandrake Pills to clear the system of the accumulated mucus.

In more serious cases, where the disease has become deeply seated, and the patient suffers from loss of appetite, weakness and emaciation, Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic should be used in connection with the above mentioned remedies, to stimulate the appetite and bring the digestive powers into healthy action, thereby sustaining the strength of the patient and enabling him to resist the progress of the disease until the Pulmonic Syrup may perform its healing and cleansing work.

The use of these standard remedies according to the directions which accompany them, cannot fail to produce most satisfactory results. A letter addressed to Dr. Schenck cor. Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, asking advice, will promptly receive the Doctor's personal attention, free or charge.

There will be a Masque Ball at Cadman's hall on the evening of March 4th. "Maskews" are growing fashionable.

Sheriff Hoffman took young Mowrer, convicted of forgery at February court, to the penitentiary last week.

From the Adjutant General's Report we learn that Columbia county has 3,221 militia enrolled and subject to military duty.

Hon. E. J. McHenry will please accept our thanks for copies of the reports of the Adjutant General, State Treasurer, and Superintendent of Public Instruction for 1877.

From Main to Mexico, the farmers speak in praise of the great medicinal worth of Foutz's Horse and Cattle Powders. They speak from experience.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.—Hereafter the Gospel Temperance Meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings. That of next week will meet at the Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m.

Barney Stohner has removed to his farm in Mt. Pleasant, and J. L. Girton has taken charge of the hotel recently kept by Stohner. Mr. Girton is well known by travelling men, and will undoubtedly keep a hotel worthy of a fair share of public patronage.

The dwelling house of Jarius Harrison, near Jonestown, Columbia county was burned, with all its contents, on Wednesday morning of last week. This is a severe loss to Mr. Harrison, as there was no insurance on the property.—Echo.

That old and popular remedy, familiar in every household throughout the land, known as Dr. Coxe's Hive Syrup, is now superceded by Dr. Coxe's Wild Cherry and Seneka which ranks above all other medicine for coughs, colds, and croup.

Thursday the 21st ult. was the day fixed for the hearing in the Williamsport Bond case, but as on several previous occasions, counsel on both sides notified Judge Elwell that it was impossible for them to attend, and asked for a continuance. The case will be heard at March Court.

A correspondent of the Shickshinny Echo says that there are no saloon keepers in the country who attempt to conduct their places more strictly in accordance with the law than the Gilmore boys do. This is perfectly true. In addition to their being law abiding citizens they keep the nicest and freshest of oysters to be found outside the cities.

From January 1st 1877 to January 1st 1878 the COLUMBIAN office averaged one job for every working day. Making in all over 100,000 impressions. Although not large, this is good for the hard times, and shows that the people know where to get their printing done in the neatest manner and at the lowest rates.

Mr. James Corrie, Dentist, in Baltimore, writes: "I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup personally and in my family for two or three years, and I am prepared to say that there is nothing to compare to it as a remedy for coughs Colds, etc."

Representative Brown on Tuesday last introduced a bill into the House "repealing the act authorizing the selection of borough officers in pursuance of an act to define the limits and organize the town of Bloomsburg.

We are not informed as to the full meaning of the bill. Will one of our members send us a copy when printed?

We have just received from the publishers a new wall map, size—4 feet by 6 feet. It is beautifully colored by counties—and contains every post-office in the state, by the latest authorities—correctly locates the rivers, mountains, railroads, and canals, and is complete in every particular. It is printed on fine paper, securely mounted on strong muslin and on rollers, and will be furnished at the low price of $6,00, Net by J. H. Butler & Co. Philadelphia. Every school and home should have a copy.

Esquire Morris' court was crowded on Monday morning to hear a suit between Samuel Ale and M. Wynkoop to recover the difference between a bid for a mare at public sale, and the price she brought on a resale, the purchaser Wynkoop having refused to comply with his bid. T. J. Vanderslice, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff and J. B. Robison, Esq., for the defendant. Eighteen witnesses were examined, and after argument on both sides the justice reserved his decision until Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

Persons who were elected Justices of the Peace at the election will do well to bear in mind that it is necessary that all those elected to this office notify the Prothonotary of their acceptance of the same, within thirty days after the election, and also whether their election is to fill a vacancy by expiration of term or resignation, as well as the name of him who formerly held the office. This is made necessary in order that the Prothonotary may be enabled to notify the Secretary of State, and prevent delay in receiving commissions, as in no case will notice of election be given until this information is received.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Court convened on Thursday, the 21st of February pursuant to adjournment, mainly for the purpose of hearing the matter of attachment against the Williamsport councils, but on applications of counsel on both sides the hearing was continued to March 15th.

Brockway & Elwell vs. Conyngham township. Case stated. Opinion of Court filed. Judgment for defendant.

A W Kreamer vs. Pottsville Fire Insurance Company. Service set aside.

L. Kinley vs. N. S. Campbell. Motion for a new trial overruled.

Lunacy of Levi Miller. Finding of commission superseded.

In the matter of the Auditor's report in estate of Geo. F. Watson. Exceptions dismissed and report confirmed.

At this time an unusual number of persons troubled with coughs and colds come to our knowledge, which might be wonderfully decreased by the more general use of that well-known remedy, Dr. Haas' Expectorant.

A lot of men who do not know what they are talking about in discussing the Silver Bill say that the Standard Dollar is worth only 90 cents. Now to such we would say, bring on your silver dollars and we will give you more than that in greenbacks. If you have any to sell at 95 we will buy.

Rudolph Yeager of Slabtown was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal T. E. Geddis on the 18th of February on a charge of carrying on the business of a retail dealer in liquors and manufacturer cigars, not having paid the special tax im osed by law. He was brought before U. S. Commissioner Smith, and gave bail in the sum of $3,000 for his appearance on the 23d, at which time after a hearing he was bound over for trial in the United States District Court, and committed to the Columbia county jail for safe keeping. Col. Knorr appeared for the government, and O. B. Melick for the prisoner.

A CAMPAIGN SLANDER.

When Dr. R. V. Pierce was a candidate for State Senator, his political opponents published a pretended analysis of his popular medicines hoping thereby to prejudice the people against him. His election by an overwhelming majority severely rebuked his traducers, who sought to impeach his business integrity. No notice would have been taken of these campaign lies were it not that some of his enemies (and every successful business man has his full quota of envious rivals) are republishing these bogus analyses. Numerous and most absurd formulas have been published, purporting to come from high authority; and it is a significant fact that no two have been at all alike—conclusively proving the dishonesty of their authors.

In years past New York was supposed to lead the country in the amount of business transacted and in the skill with which her merchants attracted orders and customers from all parts of the Union. In those days, now past, all foreign steamers landed at her wharves, and she had some advantages over her sister city of Philadelphia, which do not now exist.

The only line of steamers carrying the American flag sails weekly from and to Philadelphia and her merchants receive their foreign shipments direct, without the delays incident to the New York custom house. In the matter of filling orders by mail, which now has grown to be such an immense business, Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier, of Philadelphia, are leading the country.

The promptness with which orders for dry goods and requests for samples are filled by this wide-awake house is surprising. A letter addressed to this firm, instead of having to wait its turn, is answered by return mail, and all orders executed, not only satisfactorily and immediately, but at prices with which few houses can compete. New York will have to look to its laurels if its merchants expect to keep abreast of such a Philadelphia house as that of Strawbridge & Clothier.

FRECK VS. LOCUST MOUNTAIN COAL CO.

The case of Joseph M. Freck vs. the Locust Mountain Coal & Iron Company was argued in the Supreme Court recently. It is an action in trespass brought by the company against Mr. Freck. The latter leased certain lands for a term of ten years in Centralia from the Locust Mountain Coal & Iron Company, with the right to dig, mine and take away coal from specified limits in the Centreville basin in Columbia county. In 1870 the lease expired and the property reverted to the company, when it is alleged to have been discovered that in the course of his workings Mr. Freck had worked beyond the limit of his lease and thus injured the Centralia mine, which is owned by the Locust Mountain Coal Company. The case was previously tried in the Court of Common Pleas No. 2, of Philadelphia, and under the charge of the Court a verdict of damages in the sum of $17,000 was rendered against Freck and in favor of the company. The case was removed to the Supreme Court by Mr. Freck on assignments of error. The case was concluded, but a decision will probably not be rendered for some time to come.—Pottsville Chronicle.

READING THE DEATH WARRANTS.

Last week Sheriff Hoffman received from Gov. Hartranft the death warrants of Hester, Tully and McHugh. R. R. Little, District Attorney, and C. B. Brockway, one of the counsel for the prisoners accompanied the Sheriff to the jail last Wednesday evening to read them to the prisoners. The party first entered the cell of Patrick Tully. He was cool and collected, but before the Sheriff commenced reading the fatal document, requested leave to light his pipe. The party next proceeded to the cell of Peter McHugh. He is still chained to the floor in consequence of his attempted escape some time ago. He listened patiently and without emotion to the reading of the warrant. Hester's cell was next visited. He apologized for the lack of chairs, and was as courteous as if the Sheriff had brought him a pardon. The three men expressed their thanks to the Sheriff for the quiet and modest manner in which he had performed his duty, and for excluding the large number who requested to be present at the reading of the warrants. The Sheriff is entitled to credit for respecting their wishes. It is certainly a depraved taste that would gloat on the misery of three human beings on the verge of death, and such morbid curiosity should be restrained.

Priceless Discovery.

A Sure Cure for Piles.

A sure cure for the blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy) called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst old chronic cases of twenty-five and thirty years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. William's Ointment supports the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for Piles and nothing else. Thousands of cured patients attest its virtues and physicians of all schools pronounce it the greatest contribution to medicine of the age. It matters not how long or severely you have been suffering, you can be cured.

Mr. Joseph M. Ryder, Cleveland, Ohio, writes: I suffered for years with Itching and Ulcerated Piles, tried remedy after remedy advertised, and consulted physicians in Philadelphia, Louisville, Cincinnati and this city; and spent hundreds of dollars, but found no relief until I obtained a box of Dr. William's Indian Ointment some four months ago, and it has cured me completely. I had a part of the box left which I gave to a friend of mine who had doctored with many physicians, and as a last resort went to the noted Hot Springs, Arkansas, for treatment. He informs me that the Indian Ointment has also cured him of the piles. It is certainly a wonderful discovery, and should be used by the many thousands who are now suffering with that dread disease.

☞$10,000 Reward will be paid for a more certain remedy. Sold by all Druggists. DR. G. W. FRAZIER, sole proprietor, Cleveland O.

Standard Steam Laundry, Cleveland, O, Oct. 30, '76.

DR. FRAZIER, Dear Sir: I feel it a duty I owe to suffering humanity to write you. For some time I was sorely afflicted with a cough, raising bad stuff, with every symptom of being a confirmed consumptive. I tried different medicines and cures without finding relief; I also consulted three of our most prominent Cleveland physicians, the last one of which pronounced my case serious, and informed me that I could not live more than a few months. About this time, hearing of your wonderful success, I commenced taking your Syrup in connection with your Root Bitters, and was at once benefitted, and after using the medicine some two months I find myself entirely cured. TORRENCE DUNN.

☞ Mr. Dunn again writes, under date of August 4, 1877.—Dr. Frazier, Dear Sir: I can endorse your medicines more strongly than ever from the fact that it is now nearly one year since I was cured. My lungs are to-day strong and sound, having no return of the disease.

☞ The above Medicines speak for themselves. DR. G. W. FRAZIER, Proprietor Cleveland, O.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhage, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c.; regular size, 75c.

The indebtedness one year ago was $165 12. Now $704 43 due from collectors with $126 69 in the hands of the Treasurer, make $831 12. The indebtedness is $814 25, leaving a difference in favor of said fund of $16 87. Last year the indebtedness was $165 12 and $16 87 amount now due said fund show a gain during the year of $181 99. The above statement shows that Fishingcreek, Madison, Orange and Sugarloaf consumed the principal of the fund. The heavy damages run in localities for certain periods of time. Now if all persons, and especially Auditors, would cause all kill-sheep dogs to be killed, or make the persons who own such dogs and refuse to have them killed pay the damage, the fund would be in a good condition; and again if the taxes were collected sheep orders could be paid as soon as issued. We hope that this will receive proper attention.

Temple of Agriculture at Pekin.

In the spring of every year the Chinese pay great honors to agriculture. The emperor proceeds to the park surrounding the Temple of Agriculture at Pekin, and in a plot of ground reserved for the purpose and in the presence of the grandees of the Empire, he guides, the imperial plow, and uses the seed planter, rake, &c. The implements employed by him are devoted to his exclusive use, and are of a bright yellow color; and no inferior person can plow or sow the emperor's plot; when he is not able to come his part in left barren. The grain sown by the emperor is rice. The governor of the province and the mayor of the city then imitate the emperor in plots reserved for them, using implements of a red color, and sowing millet.

Afterward the emperor and attendant princes and officials proceed to the Temple of Agriculture, which is dedicated to Shin-Nung, or the "Divine Husbandman," the fabulous originator of the art. Here bullocks, swine, and sheep are offered in sacrifices, and prayers made to Shin-Nug and also to the god of the land, the god of the grain, the god of the ocean, the god of the wind, the god of thunder, and the god of rain. They are also very particular to worship what is called the god of the year. In ancient times, this was the planet Jupiter, but at present the officers who advise and act for the emperor in these matters canonize what and whom they please.

Similar plowing and worshiping are performed by the leading mandarins near the south gates of all the principal cities of the empire; after which the mandarins mount a platform; and, calling around them the principal farmers of the vacinity exhort them to the proper discharge of their duties as husbandmen. At the close of the addresses, they present to each of the farmers who have been selected to receive them certain presents or medals in the name of the emperor, in order to encourage and stimulate them to diligence in their calling.

Apart from the idolatrous worship, this conduct of the emperor and his officials is very praiseworthy; but it is sad to know that while "God has not left himself without witness among them in that he does good, and sends them rain and fruitful seasons, filling their hearts with food and gladness," they yet do not recognize his existence and beneficence, but give his glory to others and his praise to graven images.—Spirit of Mission.

Where Flowers Came From.

Some of our flowers came from lands of perpetual summer, some from countries of ice and snow, some from islands in the ocean. Three of our sweetest exotics came originally from Peru; the camelia was carried to England in 1739, and a few years afterward the heliotrope and mignonette. Several others came from the Cape of Good Hope; a very large calla was found in ditches there, and some of the most brilliant geraniums, or pelargoniums which are a spurious geranium. The verbena grows wild in Brazil; the marigold is an African flower, and numbers come from China and Japan. The little Daphne was carried to England by Captain Ross, from almost the farthest land he visited towards the north pole. Some of these are quite changed in form by cultivation; others have only become larger and brighter; while others, despite of all the care of florists and the shelter of hot-houses, fell far short of the beauty and fragrance of the tropics.

Among improved ones is the dahlia. When brought to Europe it was a very simple blossom, a single circle of dark petals surrounding a mass of yellow ones. Others, with scarlet and orange petals, were soon after transplanted from Mexico, but still remained simple dowers. Long years of cultivation in rich soil, with other arts of skillful florists, have changed it to what it now is—a round ball of beauty.—Riverside Magazine.

To Tell a Horse's Age.

Up to the period when a colt has a full set of teeth the peculiar character of them is a good indication of the age of the animal. After that age of the horse is indicated by the wearing down of the teeth.—When a colt is one year old he has cut twelve nippers and sixteen grinders.—During the second year the permanent teeth begin to appear and the nippers become worn. During the third year the milk or first teeth fall out and are replaced by permanent teeth, which are larger than the first ones. The grinders are also increased to six in each jaw. At five years the mouth is complete. After six years no reliance can be placed on the teeth as an indication of age, as it is obvious much depends on the manner of feeding the horse. If he is pastured to any extent the teeth become worn down sooner than if he had been fed on soft food.—N. Y. Times.

Employment for Women.

The subject of the employment of women is as vital to the rich as to the poor. Mr. Emerson's remark with regard to the regulation of the body holds equally for the soul—he is rich, and would be well, let him live as if he were poor. We talk of the lazy poor because they are a burden to the community; are not the lazy rich, after all, the rottenness at the core? "Every woman, from the Queen on the throne to the little Pippa who passes every day to the filature, has her work to do and is responsible for the due performance of it. All service ranks the same with God. All are servants equally in His sight."

What a picture would the life of the average woman of Fifth Avenue or Beacon St., present to us if we should lay it down without exaggeration on paper! Her school-days over, it is her habit to walk into the breakfast-room at nine o'clock, just from her bed, her front hair twisted over pins or bits of silk. She lounges, reading the newspaper, chatting with others as purposeless as herself, warming her feet or gazing out of window, until eleven; then she retires to arrange her toilet for the evening, perhaps to examine clean clothes from the wash, or perform some other household duty—duties not to be omitted, but which the economical woman (one who has learned the value of time) would have completed before the day began; then she dresses for afternoon calls and list in hand, descends to the lunch table. Here nearly another hour fades away before she begins her afternoon round, flitting from house to house cheerfully chatting of the Shaughraun, Nilsson, Kellogg—of everything in short, which concerns the shows of life, but careful as one walking over pitfalls to avoid every subject of vital interest either to herself or others. Then, the visits or drive ended, she hurries home in time to dress for dinner, and go somewhere afterward, as if to exhaust to the last drop her own vital strength and the hours of the day. This little record is not overdrawn. With certain modifications, this is the substance of the life of wives and daughters of well-to-do merchants in our cities. These days are varied by certain mornings given to music and others to painting. But how small the average of those who achieve anything worth doing! A man to be a painter must not paint with half his mind. The same law holds good of the woman.

Let every woman apply to her own life the doctrine of selection. The man is bred to this. What is your son going to be? parents are asked, and boys in the public school confide to each other the profession of their choice. No one asks the girl what is to be her employment, what she is preparing for. The days of her pleasant school life glide by one after another; frequently no accurate scholarship has been required of her; and when the routine stops she is without rudder and without aim.—Harper's Magazine for March.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could ever grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.

It Speaks for Itself.

ROCKPORT, Mass., April 2, 1877.

MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of Catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about Catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar grabbers) would be glad if they could embiazon a similar cure in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes" and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes. I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package, and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor it did not cure me three-fourths of a second, nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose.

Yours truly,

L. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers, or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow, and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on the face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

This Cut Illustrates the Manner of Using
DR. PIERCE'S
Fountain Nasal Injector,
OR DOUCHE.

This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. Its use is pleasant and so simple that a child can understand it. Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When used with this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucus, purulent, offensive, &c. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, [illegible]

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, [illegible] by all Druggists.

FROM ELDER H. L. GILMAN, A MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL IN GLOVER, VT.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs; have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance, but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry about a year since, I commenced using it with immediate relief. It has not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public, and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering with pulmonary complaints."

FROM MRS. ISAAC MOORE, OF RICHMOND, VT.

"Some three years since I was attacked with a severe cough, soreness and irritation of the lungs, to which was added asthma in a severe form. During the first year I tried several of the most popular medicines of the day, but received no real relief, and I had almost despaired of ever regaining my health when I was induced to try Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which very soon relieved me. My cough became loose, the soreness and irritation disappeared, and my general health began to mend. I continued its use and a few bottles restored me to better health than I ever hoped to enjoy again. I believe the Balsam to be the most reliable remedy that can be found."

FROM BENJAMIN WHEELER, STATION AGENT AT SOUTH ROYALSTON, MASS.

"I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough with its usual accompaniment of night sweats completely prostrating my nervous system, and prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of Health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam, though with no belief whatever in its truly wonderful curative properties, and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elevated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."
